Sad Shooting Fatality.

Young Man in Brooks District
Killed by 22-Rifle

Wednesday afternoon, the 18th a distressing gun accident took place at the home of T. C. Stretch in the Brooks district, when Robert E. Lang, a hired man, and returned soldier, lost his life.

Just how the accident happened cannot be accounted for. The boys had been out shooting at the place for the forenoon, and were arranging to go out again after lunch. Roger Stretch had the rifle in his hand, and while moving to the door the bullet must have struck something, at any rate it broke open, causing the trigger to act, with the result that the bullet lodged in Lang's temple.
Medical aid was called with all haste, but life was extinct before the doctor arrived.

Deceased had been in the employ of Mr. Stretch for a considerable time, was a bright and capable of 23 years, and held in high esteem by the family, as well as being a favorite in the neighborhood.

The authorities were communicated with, but after inquiry it was decided that an inquest was unnecessary, the sad fatality being purely an accident.

Everything possible has been done, both by the police and Mr.
Stretch to locate deceased's relatives, but without avail, and the funeral took place on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Baker officiating.

REMARKABLE MANIFEST- ATIONS OF HEALING IN IRELAND

Belfast, Aug. 22.—Intense excitement prevails in Templemore County Tipperary, the scene of the murder of Police Inspector Wilson, over what are reported as wonderful manifestations of healing.

The Tipperary correspondent of a local newspaper sends details of what he describes as:

"An extraordinary miracle," which he says began Friday evening and still continues. "About six p.m.," he said, "all the statues and holy pictures in the house of Thomas Divan, a news agent, began to bleed."

Divan, the scene of the strange manifestation and wonderful cures being effected. The crippled soldier, who was carried down to Divan's on crutches with a leg which had been badly shattered by shrapnel in France walked back from the house with the full use of his limbs.

He had been three years in a hospital. A little girl, a victim of consumption, was borne into the house and she, too, was cured.
People are thronging to Temple-more to see the cures, news of which is being distributed throughout Tipperary.

Next meeting will be held on Monday, the 11th day of October, 1920, at the residence of the Reeve.

sults in this instance, re-animal

CHAS. A. JOHNSON, Secretary.

London, Aug. 21.—It has been announced that plans for more than 200,000 houses have been approved by the minister of health in connection with the national housing scheme at present in operation in Great Britain. Up till July 1 of this year there had been completed by local authorities and public utility societies 1,200 houses, while the total number of houses under construction was 18,000. The total number of housing schemes submitted to the ministry of health is now 10,351, which 6,726 have received official approval.

Gas Well a Success Egypt Gets Independence

Visit of Premier and
Hon. A. J. McLean

The gas well at the hospital is proving a success. The gas has been piped to the boilers, and giving entire satisfaction; the pressure holding up better than expected. Such is the information conveyed to us by the superintendent.

Premier Stewart and the Hon.
Mr. McLean visited the well on Monday, and after a careful inspection were so well pleased that Mr.
McLean was instructed to proceed with another well forthwith. This well will be bored with an up-to-date rotary outfit, and with the experienced and energetic crew of drillers, another supply should soon be forthcoming.

London, Aug. 24.—The London Times says that meeting it understands that Great Britain has agreed to recognize the independence of Egypt.

The decision, according to the London Times, resulted from recent conversations here between the Viscount Milner, missionary, who recently visited Egypt, and an Egyptian delegation headed by said Zaghlo Pasha, former minister of justice.

Among the fundamental points of the agreement are:
Egypt will recognize Great Britain's privileged position in the valley of the Nile, and agrees in case of war to afford every facility for access to Egyptian territory.

England will maintain a garrison in Egypt, in the canal zone. Egypt reains control of foreign relations subject to her not making treaties contrary to their policy and will have the right to maintain independence abroad. Capitalizations will be abolished.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Local News.

T. F. Sparber left Monday on a visit to the western states with a view to looking up a location.

Monday, September 6, is Labor Day, and will be observed as a holiday. All places of business in town will be closed.

J. L. Dye, of Ben Street, "ask," is visiting with his father at Home Glen.

Mr and Mrs Krotch, of Wetaskiwin, visited with Mr and Mrs E. M. Roberts the first of the week.

Miss Jennie Hamby, of Calgary, is spending her vacation in our midst. And where could a better spot be found?

Mr and Mrs W. C. Fleming and family are enjoying their vacation with relatives in our midst.

Mr and Mrs Geo. E. Clarke and family were guests of Mr and Mrs J. W. Hume, of Mirror, over the week-end.

Robert T. Dick and family left for Magrath on Monday, Mr Dick having secured a school in that neighborhood.

Mrs Ed. Peterson and daughter Vivian, returned from their visit to California on Sunday.

John Borland, of Laurel, Mont., has purchased a section of land, north-west of town, through C. W. Segerstrom.

Mr Fuller, of Marshalltown, is paying his annual visit to our midst, making a stay with his daughter, Mrs C. A. Parks. Mr Fuller has been paying us periodical visits for many years, and has made many friends who are always ready to give him a welcome.

The rest room is being well patronized. Supper was served Friday evening, and was well patronized. With so many paying their respects to the rooms at present, they will be a source of comfort to the country folks during the winter months.

M. L. Aspenwall, of Lanark, Ill., is visiting in our neighborhood, being on a trip combining business with pleasure. Mr Aspenwall is owner of a half section of land in the Scott district, and was one of our earliest settlers. He sees a vast improvement in our country since he left it, and is glad to see the farmers doing so well. His old-time friends are glad to see him back again in our midst.

All arrangements have been made for holding the stampede on Saturday afternoon. The committee have been very active, and given good weather success is assured. Judging by the interest that is being taken by the farmers there will be a great gathering on the fair grounds. Come and bring the fair grounds. Come and bring the fair grounds. Come and bring the fair grounds.

The party who found the bag of fender twine, in or near town, might leave it at the Herald office as I change.

Mrs E. G. Headley is spending a few days in Calgary.

Mr and Mrs Hugo Schmidt spent a few days last week camping at Pigeon Lake.

BAGG—On Sunday, August 22, to Mr and Mrs Addison Baker, of Edmonton, a son.

Having about over, and up to the best of condition, the farmers are now turning their attention to the harvest, in fact some are well through with the cutting. This is about the earliest on record, and while taken on the whole, the crop is somewhat short, still many of our farmers report that the yield is better than they expected. This is the old story; always a dark ripple before cutting but when it is said that farms within twenty miles of town are giving from 30 to 40 bushels wheat per acre our situation is far from being uncomfortable.

The women of the community will serve lunch on the fair grounds on Saturday, August 28, beginning at 12 noon. Will the women, either in town or country, who are willing to donate cooking, but have not been solicited, please phone Mrs W. L. Geo. No. 112, or Mrs A. D. Crawford, No. 131.

There will be a big dance in the Empress Theatre on Friday evening, August 27th. Everybody come.

There will be an "open air concert in the baseball park on Friday, September 3rd, at 7 p.m. There will be some outside talent, but the most of the program will be local. Admission 25 and 50 cents. Proceeds to go to swell the crossing funds for the purchase and furnishing and up keep of the rest room now open. Two doors west of post office. This place is opened to the public by the business men of town and by business men and their wives who occupy many beautiful farms surround Ponoka, and who feel an interest here as well as in their own cozy nooks. It has been tried to limit individual donations to five dollars, but some have insisted upon giving much more, the object of the limitation being to give as many people an interest as possible.

As they approached Declute's home which was a house of logs close to the shore of Rond Ean, a couple of wire-haired mongrels came yelping out to meet them.

"There's David and Goliath," said Ander. "Rachel named them dogs. She's great on Bible names is Rachel—too damned great," he finished in a lower key.

Gloss opened the door and stepped inside. Mrs. Declute turned away from the table and a smile spread across her brow-freckled face.

"Oh, you dear," she said, pouncing forward and imploring a resounding smack on the girl's rosy cheek. "You little dear, to come just now of all times, when I most wanted to see you."

Mrs. Declute smiled again and a bit of powder fell from her face. It was a big, naturally smiling face, with big heart-shaped eyes, and a kind, heartless-looking smile in its large blue eyes. She was a big woman, "high two hundred and thirty" as Ander put it.

"Where are babies?" asked Gloss, sitting down on a stool and gazing about the small room.

"Sister! like angels," she trouble-some little good-fellowship, smiled the woman fondly. "I have just that trouble-some little thing. I'll have to tie him up. Only this morning he upset the table and split little Martha out on the floor, for kump. Give me your life if I wasn't so provoked I could have boxed him if he hadn't been just getting over the jammer."

"Ander will be that you are think of having a baby," said Gloss. "Is there anything I can do to help you, Mrs. Declute?"

"Just what I would like to see you about," cried the beaming woman, sitting down on a stool and gazing with her open. "Thought first as I'd run across to Toberness and ask widdler Ross to come over. Then I thought about her having that teacher boarder there, and I didn't want to put her out any. This week is the widdler, but another week she'll be here as anybody can cook meats and sare 'em up quite like you, Glossie. I'll fix up some dried-apple pies. Sent over to Bridgeton's for the flour, and Jim Peeler for the dried-apples. I guess he'll be along soon."

"It's coming right now," called Declute from the door. "I'll go along and give him a hand, I guess. He's got some tobacco for me—lastest I hope he has. I sent for some."

"Ain't that a treat for you?" winked Mrs. Declute. "Ain't that a man, though? Glossie, my dear, don't you ever marry a man like that, I tell you. You'll be sorry all the days of your life if you do. Even I am almost sorry sometimes, and Ander's an exception of a man. He ain't no other like him. And sakes alive, he's had enough, dear knows."

Ander and a short, heavy-set man entered, and the latter laid a number of parcels on the table. He had a jolly round red face with crow's-feet about the corners, and his eyes were stamped there by much smiling. It was said by Jim Peeler that he had never been known to lose his temper.

He stood a short time in the corner, and sat down near the table. Mrs. Declute arose and brought a steaming teapot from the kitchen, and also a plate of bread and cold meat.

After disposing of a goodly portion of the victuals before him, Jim turned to Gloss with the question:

"How's the sick?"

"No better," answered Gloss, her face growing grave.

"Dear me, how thankful I am!" exclaimed Mrs. Declute. "I knowed there was something I wanted to ask you, Gloss. That's it. How's the sick little woman?"

Ander was cutting off a piece of black chewing-tobacco from a slab. "Why don't you tell old Betty 'bout her?" he asked.

"Shut up, Ander," flashed his wife. "Is she a Christian, or he you a heathen as believe in witches?"

"There, there," laughed Peter son-thingly. "I guess Ander is a good Christian. But I was in the corner, a Christian today, a real pious, right down good man."

"Synthe?" questioned Declute, the pipe of tobacco poised half-way to its expectant goal.

"The same," answered Peter. "And by the way, I met that man Watson. I was couldn't know. He must have been over here, eh?"

"He was here this morning," said Gloss. "He was 'bout to to buy our place."

"Oh, was he?"

Peter's face lost its smile and his husky eyebrows met in a scowl. "How about you, Ander?" Declute squirmed.

"Oh, I ain't thinkin' much about it, Jim. I ain't worryin' none."

His wife gazed at him contemptuously.

"You ain't brains enough to worry about anything," she exclaimed. "Was that Watson ridin' alone, Jim?"

"Well, no, he wasn't. That teacher chap was with him. He was ridin' the bay belongin' to Hallib's engineer."

Gloss looked up, her eyes wide. "Then they were together?" she asked.

"Yes," replied Peter. "I suppose the teacher was 'bout him through part of it. He was talkin' to Blake, the engineer, over at the mill's white eggs, and he tells me Colonel Hallib has hired Synthe and Watson to help get our timberland."

"Where'bouts on the trail did you meet 'em?" asked Declute.

"Why, they had only got nicely started I guess. It wasn't more than three or three miles out at most."

"Where has Watson been all day?" asked Gloss. "He was out of our place shortly after sun-up."

"From the next room came a commotion, and three round-eyed youngsters, between the ages of three and six, pouted their heads from beneath the buckskin door-curtain."

"Get back in there, Moses and Zachariah," commanded the mother. "You ain't had half enough sleep yet."

"Oh, let me hug them, Mrs. Declute," said Gloss. "They're sweet, wholesome youngsters, and the girl loved them. She kissed them all three times around, then set them down."

"Gloss, we'd better be goin', Ander," she said, "but I'm not the least bit of a come. But I'm not the least bit of a come."

"Conse' he'll go," declared Mrs. Declute, "and you too, Jim Peeler, 'cause I've got to get on with them pils. Let Lubby the bee's next Thursday, and I'll want her to help with the table. Much ship for your kindness, Jim. Good-night, Glossie."

CHAPTER IX.

"Gloss, I'll step through the oak ridge here and look in on Bill Peeler for a minute or so," said Jim Peeler, as the three found the path leading to the teacher's house.

"He's singin' his old pet song," smiled Gloss. "Hark, can't you hear him?"

On the tree-fence of Rond Ean a red disk of a sun was dripping gold and amber, and all the wild-wood was full of life and harmony.

From the thicket the hardest of the songbirds were building good-by to the world. It was their last night in the old nestlings.

Mingled with the symphony came Paisley's voice, trilling happily:

"Massa's gone away, de darkey say. 'Ho, ho, ho!'"

"Mum be new dat de kingdom's work. I'd be day ob jubilee."

"He's a happy beggar," chuckled Declute. "He's a happy beggar, is Bill, and the biggest, coarsest, over-extended baby of a man as ever lived."

"Go!" he bellowed some big things, said Peter, "that's waving toward the mellow glory about 'this' looking about 'em' on 'Bill. Yes. He built his house, and nobody has ever spoiled his work."

Heavy Yields of Rye Grass

Threshed Out at the Rate of 305 Lbs. Of Seed to the Acre

In an experiment conducted at the Dominion Experimental Station at Beaver Lodge, in northern Alberta, recently, it was found that rye grass threshed out at the rate of 305 pounds of seed to the acre, all of which was ground No. 1 at the Calgary Seed Laboratory. This yield at the current retail price for rye grass would amount to over $60 per acre.

An English Journalist In Canada

Different Conception of Canada Says Sir Charles Starnes

"The abundance of prosperity one sees everywhere is what has most interested Sir Charles Starnes, North York, Ontario, Canada, who declared that as a result of the visit of the newspapermen from old country, the Canadian stock would boom in England. The newspapers in the past had, he said, not given enough publicity to Canada. New newspapermen, provincial and federal, had done their work well, but they had not been supported as they should by the newspapers. New newspapermen were seeing things with their own eyes, and the effect would be an impetus to immigration to the Dominion."

Sir Charles, who has paid several visits to Canada, spoke of the marked changes he had noticed from the maritime provinces westward. "There is very much greater refinement everywhere," he observed, "and a noticeable improvement in the cities and buildings. Even in fifteen years," he said, "the progress is amazing. I have just had another look around this great city of yours which has a population of a million within the next 25 years." Sir Charles, before this comment, had dwelt upon the enthusiasm with which the people of Canada understood the changes that were coming from the Old Country. It is rather terrifying the tremendous progress you back as if they were quite ordinary, twenty-four years ago."

Contrasting the profession of food he saw everywhere with what he described as the extremely short supplies in England, Sir Charles Starnes admitted to the severe rationing during the period of the war. Canada, to him, appeared to be recovering more rapidly from the effects of the struggle. "You seem to have got back to absolute peace conditions here," he remarked. "We have had a great deal of that ideal state." The people, he also seemed to be more contented. — Winnipeg Free Press.

Farmer Should Grow Own Trees

Home Nursery is Cheapest Method For Prairie Farmers

The question is often asked by the "journalists": "If the nursery industry in India Head is already producing trees for prairie planting fully up to its capacity, how is any new demand to be met?" Can farmers grow their own trees from seed?

Mr. Norman M. Ross, chief of the Planting Division, has the answer, following to say regarding the farm nursery under prairie conditions:

"Where seeds of native trees can be obtained the cheapest method of getting seedlings is for the planter to grow them himself. Most of the hardy varieties are very easily raised from seed, the labor and expense in this connection on a farm amounting to very little."

Seed should always be procured, if possible, from mature trees growing under climatic and other conditions similar to those the seedlings will be expected to endure. The Manitoba maple has a very wide range, and seed might be procured almost anywhere in North America. It would be found, however, that that picked in the Southern States or even in Eastern Canada, would not produce seedlings hardy in the prairie provinces.

The amount of seed required for a longer in the East than in the West, and it has been found that seedlings from eastern seed trees are much more mature early enough to escape the late frost on the prairie, and are consequently cut back. The greater the difference, the more the conditions of growth affecting the parent trees, and those experienced by the seedlings, the greater the utility of the latter. It is to be contended with. This shows that many characteristics are acquired by the seed from the parent tree, so that it would always be wise to get seed from the best individuals, and to avoid, where possible, taking it from dwarf or stunted trees. Seed from young trees do not generally have so good a germinating percentage as that from a mature tree.

The amount of land a farmer would require for his nursery is very small, in fact, one-quarter to one-half an acre would be more than sufficient in the ordinary case. Any land that is in a suitable condition for growing garden crops and is at the same time protected from frost by the high winds, would do for this purpose. The best soil for the nursery is rich, sandy loam. It should be located near the house so that the work could be done in odd moments.

Canada's Water Power

An Industrial Asset

Estimated That 20,000,000 Horse Power is Undeveloped

It is indisputable that one of Canada's great industrial assets in the near future will be an amplified use of her magnificent water-powers. These are capable of great development notwithstanding the enormous progress reported; and at a time when industries are hard hit by the scarcity or unavailability of coal, fresh water-power installations will "keep the pot boiling" in more senses than one.

The Water Powers Branch of the Department of the Interior has compiled and brought up to date statistics bearing on the available and utilized water power of the Dominion. This shows that there are nearly 20,000,000 horse-power still undeveloped, that the total water-power of the Dominion is about 2,500,000 h.p., and that the ultimate developing capacity of plants now operating or under construction is 3,800,000 h.p.

Canada has utilized, or arranged to utilize, about one-sixth of the water-powers of the country, but has had the international water-powers of the St. Lawrence.

The Valleys of the Ocean

Atlantic Covers Two Nearly Four Miles Deep

The Atlantic ocean covers two vast valleys. One of these passes between the Cape Verde Islands and the Azores, and is nearly four miles deep. It runs close up to Europe, and comes to an end near the British Isles, where a ridge or crest of land separates it from the basin of the North Sea.

The other valley runs in the main parallel to the first, from which it is separated by an elongated strip of land, of which the Azores form a continuation above the water. This strip does not exceed a depth of 9,000 feet, while its height amounts to 6,500 feet.

The first valley, like its confederate, is a deep, its bottom is situated at a depth of nearly four miles below the surface. Passing along South America and leaving the Atlantic at its mouth, it runs close up to Europe, and comes to an end near the British Isles, where a ridge or crest of land separates it from the basin of the North Sea.

The sub-Atlantic valley consists of two vast parallel valleys or mountain ranges. Farther north the land is higher, and the valleys are deeper, speaking shallower. Between Greenland and the continent, close to Iceland and the Channel Islands, there is a high plateau free from any depression worthy of mention. It thus appears quite clear that at one time England was connected to the continent.

Mineral Wealth Of Spitzbergen

Richer Than Was Generally Imagined A Decade Ago

Four months of sunlight in the year, but the sunless winter in the mining regions is not so cold as it is in Canada, thanks to the neighborhood of the Gulf Stream and the prevalence of the westerly winds, and there somebody presses a button, switches on the electrical current and illuminates the mining villages with electrical light. The work goes on, and the coal fields, says the London Times Trade Supplement, are still estimated to hold more than 200,000,000 tons of coal, which is interesting information nowadays, even to the American citizen, whose coal bin is such a long way from Spitzbergen.

These, however, are the beds of the steam coal, and those which contain household coal are said to be even more extensive.

Nor is Spitzbergen without interest to the man who runs an automobile, as well as to the man who runs a furnace. There are muddy ponds on the islands, where gas bubbles up through the mud, and last year an analysis of the gas showed that it contains a large percentage of petroleum. A new and hitherto unsuspected source of fuel has been revealed by these bubbles of gas, and now arrangements are being pushed to prospect the region thoroughly with the likely result of finding a rich oil-bearing region. Spitzbergen is richer than was generally imagined a decade ago; during the last few years, iron, copper, lead, gypsum, asbestos and other minerals, as well as promising finds of gold and silver, have been discovered, and the beds of colored marble have been opened. All of which is interesting to the world at large, and particularly interesting to the British engineers, which have acquired ownership of about three-quarters of the mineral wealth of the island.

The Norwegians, the Danes and Germans are also busy developing this island wealth, over which, by the decision of the League of Nations, wars the sovereign grasp of Norway.

Britain Leads in Shipbuilding

United Kingdom Regains Supremacy Over Stars in Ship Construction

Harrison Watson, chief Canadian Trade Commissioner in the United Kingdom, in a report to the government, emphasizes the success of the United Kingdom in resuming her former place of supremacy in shipbuilding led in pre-war days. He stated that owing to the uninterrupted increase in the tonnage of merchant vessels under construction in July, the United Kingdom has almost reversed her position of a year ago in comparison with the United States.

Shipping Lines Want Increase

Involving Approximately Sixty U. S. Steamship Lines

Washington.—Great Lakes, Coastwise and Gulf carriers, urged the United States shipping board to grant applications involving approximately sixty steamship lines for rate increases in connection with the advances already allowed the carriers by the inter-state board of commerce. A majority of the lines are now operating at deficits which threaten their existence, it is said. H. E. Macdonald was told by witnesses. Representatives of shippers are now being heard. Owing to the short time in which the railway rate increase of 11 percent, efforts are being made to expedite the hearings.

"This," the manifesto says, "is not a time to be deceived by empty words. Why does not the Prime Minister announce the terms on which England will make peace with Russia? Why is the position with regard to the adventures of General Wrangel's army?"

The council also calls for a resumption of trading with Russia and exhorts the workers not to receive their efforts in the direction of the war. Claim Railway is Facing A Heavy Deficit

Council Suggests There is Less Need For Increased Rates

Ottawa.—An interesting development in the hearing before the rail commission of the application of the Canadian railways for increased freight and passenger rates occurred when H. J. Symington, counsel for the government of Manitoba, drew out the suggestion that in view of the fact that operating expenses are lower and earnings higher on western C.P.R. lines, the same necessity does not exist for an increase of rates in the west.

Mr. Symington had been examining W. J. Moul, assistant controller of the C.P.R. as to length on the cost of operating in the east and west. It being shown that during the past year's net operating expenses in the east were lower than in the west, and the net earnings per train mile are higher, those for 1919 being approximately eight percent higher than in the west.

"Would you say in view of the figures," asked Mr. Symington, "that freight rates increases should be the result of the increase in the cost of paying money for services rendered?"

Mr. Moul, in reply, said that the operating expenses in the east are largely increased for the benefit of the west. These include large expenses for port terminals, etc. For this reason, he said, operating ratios are not a proper indication of the earnings on the east and west lines.

"Is not more traffic originated in the west for the long haul?" asked Mr. Moul.

Mr. Symington replied that it was not more traffic, but that the operating expenses in the east are largely increased for the benefit of the west. These include large expenses for port terminals, etc. For this reason, he said, operating ratios are not a proper indication of the earnings on the east and west lines.

Mennonites Visit Quebec

Submit Document to Officials Outlining Desires For

Quebec.—Seven representatives of the Mennonite colonies in Manitoba and Saskatchewan visited Hon. J. A. Taschereau, premier of the province of Quebec, and submitted a lengthy document setting forth their beliefs and customs, as well as the principles they desire should be decided to come and settle in the province of Quebec.

The document states that the Mennonites, fearing that their language and religion may be taken from them in the provinces where they now reside, see themselves compelled by their conscience to look for another home where they may live in their religion without being molested or restricted.

The delegation, including two bishops of the Mennonite church, was received by Premier Taschereau, accompanied by Hon. J. E. Perrault, minister of colonization, mines and fisheries, and J. N. Miller, secretary of the Catholic commission for the study of the province in general.

After listening to the reading of the document submitted by the Mennonites, Mr. Taschereau then delegates that the province of Quebec was open for inspection. They were then taken to the city of Quebec and to study the customs and laws of the province of Quebec. The premier then reviewed the school system of the province, and the Mennonites were then taken to the city of Quebec.

Gruesome Discovery

Headless and Limbless Body of A Woman Is Found By Longshoremen

New York.—The torso of an unidentified woman with head, arms and legs severed off has been found in the Hudson River.

Changing to the skin were shreds of clothing, fine material and shreds of pieces of wrapping paper. This indicated, according to the police, that before being cast into the river the body had been wrapped in underwear or a blanket and this in turn covered with heavy wrapping paper and bound with strong cord.

The police explained the operation that the package probably had been weighted down, but that water had rotted the wrappings.

For Strike Leaders' Release

Deputation Headed by F. J. Dixon Pleads Cause of Prisoners At Ottawa

Ottawa.—Pleading the cause of the imprisoned Winnipeg strike leaders, a deputation, headed by F. J. Dixon, leader of the Laborites in the Manitoba Legislature, waited upon the Hon. J. A. Taschereau, premier of the province of Quebec, and submitted a lengthy document setting forth their beliefs and customs, as well as the principles they desire should be decided to come and settle in the province of Quebec.

The document states that the Mennonites, fearing that their language and religion may be taken from them in the provinces where they now reside, see themselves compelled by their conscience to look for another home where they may live in their religion without being molested or restricted.

The delegation, including two bishops of the Mennonite church, was received by Premier Taschereau, accompanied by Hon. J. E. Perrault, minister of colonization, mines and fisheries, and J. N. Miller, secretary of the Catholic commission for the study of the province in general.

After listening to the reading of the document submitted by the Mennonites, Mr. Taschereau then delegates that the province of Quebec was open for inspection. They were then taken to the city of Quebec and to study the customs and laws of the province of Quebec. The premier then reviewed the school system of the province, and the Mennonites were then taken to the city of Quebec.

Official of the Quebec government made it plain that no steps were taken here with a view to taking them in just at present. The coming of the Mennonites to interview the government was entirely on their own initiative.

Says Trainmen Not Exploiting Public

Explains That Five-Hour Day Is Not Equivalent to Eight-Hour Day of Industry

Toronto.—Declaring that certain evidence regarding the "five-hour day" as given before the Dominion railway commission in connection with the application for increases in freight and passenger rates, and used to make it appear that their demands have been exploiting the public, and are reported for the first time, a statement has been issued by the executive of the union.

The principal contradictions are as follows:

1. The basic five-hour day for passenger engineers is not equivalent in value to the eight-hour day in industry. It is a minimum guaranteed day measurement, for special occasions, very seldom used. The general rule is that engineers in the passenger service are paid on a mileage basis. Their hours of work are most irregular, often extending from twelve to eighteen hours on a single trip.

2. There is not a great deal of engine operating passenger trains do not get time and a half for overtime. The only men who receive this overtime are those who are in the passenger service, which is not the general rule.

3. It is true that time as well as mileage is one of the factors that determine pay, and that delay is sometimes paid for, but this is only on special occasions, and it is not true to say that there is any inducement for engineers to run slow or to arrive for delays. The inducement is all for operating on time.

4. The present salaries for engineers run from $200 to $250 a month. Their hours are usually very long and irregular, and they are not paid of the highly skilled mechanics, according to the men engaged in that kind of work.

Must Obey School Laws

No Special Treatment For Mennonites in Manitoba

Winnipeg.—If the Mennonites say in Manitoba they can expect no special disposition, government officials here arrived at a similar conclusion on September 17. Mr. Fletcher said, "If they do not conform to the school regulations they will be subject to the usual court action, and in such matters they must receive and accept the same treatment that other citizens of the province receive."

Kill British Officers

Arabs Kill Four British Officers In Mesopotamia

Bombay.—Another tragic spectre of the series of Arabian methods against British in Mesopotamia has been received here. The message says that Dr. Drigley, a political officer, Brindley, a commander, and two British non-commissioned officers were killed at Saba Raba, Mesopotamia, on September 17. The message says that the officers were killed by the Arabs, who were loyal to the end, and did fighting side by side with the British.

Vancouver Airmen Killed

Loses Life in An Accident Over English Bay

Vancouver, B. C.—In the sight of his wife and many hundreds of people on the beach, Bert Brenton, purchasing agent for the Union Steamship company of British Columbia, either jumped or fell to his death in the water when he was on the beach, Bert Brenton, purchasing agent for the Union Steamship company of British Columbia, either jumped or fell to his death in the water when he was on the beach.

Before the actual fall an explosion was heard, and the machine was turned over seven times in its descent. The machine was brought to rest by a tug and a search is being made for the pilot's body.

Brenton was about a mile out at sea when the accident occurred. He had made a flight over the city previously. He was an experienced aviator, having won active service over sea, being a captain in the Royal Air Force. He is the last of three brothers, the other two having been killed overseas.

H. H. Beasley, general manager of the same company, was killed in an airplane accident at Monro park a few months ago.

Finishes Trip to Dawson

Dawson.—H. K. Kinderley, son of Sir Robert Kinderley, governor of the Yukon, has returned to Dawson after his trip to the north.

He left Edmonton early in the summer, travelled the full length of the Yukon, and returned to Dawson by way of the Porcupine route to this city. They are leaving by steamer for Vancouver by way of White Horse and Skagway.

Munitions Are Banned

Brussels.—The Belgian state railway administration has decided to prevent the transportation of or through Belgium of troops or munitions for Poland.

This decision follows similar action by Antwerp officials.

To Open Fairs in B. C.

Ottawa.—Dr. S. F. Toline, minister of agriculture, will attend the Toronto exhibition during the last week of August and then leave for his home in Victoria, B. C. He is scheduled to open a number of fairs in the coast province.

Disastrous Fire in Chilliwack

Chilliwack, B. C.—Fire caused damage amounting to sixty thousand dollars to the business section of the city. The chief sufferers are the Chilliwack Electric company, S. Houston and F. Green.

Good Relations Restored Between France and Britain

TEN THOUSAND PRISONERS TAKEN BY POLISH ARMY

Warsaw.—The Polish offensive is now in full swing. More than 19,000 prisoners, 30 cannon, 300 machine guns and thousands of supply cars have been captured from the Bolsheviks. The Poles have occupied Ploshch, Putusk and Wykow, through which the Reds drive in their sweep towards the capital.

On the Polish pressure from the northeast, it is reported that the Reds are withdrawing their forces to the Vistula, south of the Prussian border and to the northwest of Warsaw.

The Poles are reported to be counter-attacking from Lublino for a counter-stroke against the Bolsheviks, who are less than 30 kilometers from the city. In the region of Thorn, about 100 miles northwest of Warsaw, the Poles have launched a counter-attack in the direction of Bialystok.

It is said that the Poles have started an eastward movement, aviators report.

Soviet prisoners are pouring into Warsaw in such numbers that it is being a problem how to care for them.

Paris.—Polish forces are advancing with undiminished speed along the line running from north of Warsaw to Wladawa, about 100 miles southeast of Warsaw. Principal interest, however, attaches to the maneuvers of Gen. Sluski's forces. Manned reserves which had concentrated at Wladawa, southeast of the capital have been ordered to move in three waves and affected a junction with another army operating from Chelm. United, these armies were within 18 miles of the city of Lublino.

12 miles east of Warsaw at noon on Wednesday, and have now probably recaptured that important centre of the railway system of the North.

The initial tactical aim of this manoeuvre, say military experts, is the left wing of the Red army, based on the city of Lublino.

The Red centre is being held before the force of Warsaw and on the right they are reported in a critical condition.

Germans May Help Bolsheviks

Trotsky Negotiating Secretly With German Staff Officers At Trotsk

London.—A despatch to the London Times from Danzig says Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik minister of war, has been in contact with the East Prussian frontier, about 110 miles east of Lyck, secretly from Bolsheviks, and has been in contact with German staff officers. A preliminary conference of Soviet and German officers occurred August 12 in East Prussia.

The despatch adds that the Danzig assembly, in the absence of its Polish members and against a vote of the independent socialists, has passed a resolution demanding powers for the declaration of neutrality in the Russo-Polish war.

It is asserted by the correspondent that German volunteers from East Prussia are forming an army near to the Polish frontier, and that a revolutionary army into East Prussia to bring about joint action by East Prussia and the Soviet with Poland.

Says Indians Start Forest Fires

Calgary, Alta.—That the roaming Indians are to blame for many of the bad forest fires that are so noticeable here, says a dispatch to the Calgary Herald from the forest department of the province.

Mr. H. H. Beasley, general manager of the same company, was killed in an airplane accident at Monro park a few months ago.

"Everything set for a good trip—the car running smoothly as velvet—plenty of Imperial Polarine in the crank-case and more available wherever we stop. With Imperial Polarine gasoline for fuel, we'll have a most enjoyable vacation."

Imperial Polarine Available Everywhere

WHEREVER you tour, throughout the length and breadth of Canada, you can secure the grade of Imperial Polarine you now use for lubrication—exactly the same uniform grades are sold by dealers everywhere from Halifax to Vancouver.

Imperial Polarine reduces your greatest expense—depreciation, yet costs less than storage, tires, repairs or gasoline. It reduces friction to a minimum, maintains a piston-tight seal under heaviest engine heat, helps the engine extract the last ounce of power out of gasoline.

Imperial Polarine holds its body, maintains compression—keeps the motor running smoothly and quietly. The Imperial Chart of Recommendations shows the grade recommended for your car. Ask to see it when you stop for oil.

Imperial Polarine is sold by good dealers everywhere in sealed one-gallon and four-gallon cans, half-barrels and barrels, also in 12½-gallon steel kegs, the handy size for the home garage. Buy the larger sizes to save money.

PONOKA LOST IN HARD-FOUGHT GAME

Friday night last a hard fought game of ball took place between Ponoka and Red Deer, and at the end of the nine innings the score was 13 to 11 in Red Deer's favor. Ponoka scored in the second inning and in the third, while the visitors managed to score in a passed ball. Play was suspended on the eighth inning, however and took some having a pitcher's battle. In the eighth inning the Ponoka boys, by some holding prevented their victory with the game when they tallied five runs. Ponoka tried to rally in the ninth, and looked as if to succeed, but only Russell crossed the plate. Red Deer pitched for Red Deer struck out 14. Home runs for Red Deer struck out 14.

Buckhorn

At a ratapayers meeting at Crystal Spring School, Saturday, August 14, E. H. Rowe was elected trustee, to take the place of Leslie Frizell who's leaving the district. Miss S. J. Riley returned Sunday from a three week's vacation near Lacombe. Crystal Spring School again opened on Monday, August 16th.

We are all very glad to learn Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Riley learned that might have been a very serious accident.

Rev. Mr. Nesbitt of Rimbey, returned out with friends to Crystal Spring Sunday School, August 15, and took the service. So from now on friends, there will be service every two weeks, next service being held 20th of August. You are all very welcome. It's money encouraging to see full seats than empty ones. So come one and all.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Eley, Mr. Davidson, Mrs. Rowe and Mrs. Collins motored to Battle Lake last week through a wonderful, picturesque country, and the lake and surroundings are a beautiful picture of our good Master's art. They passed through Chesterwood going and homeward, bound through Home Glen and West Rose, and a very enjoyable trip was made.

What! What do we hear these days? Why, it's the bidders giving the death toll for 1920. Soon the grain will be harvested and that beautiful snow fluttering down and it will be a case of "Ring out the old, ring in the new," and 1921 will have dawned upon us.

Miss L. Frizell has returned from visiting friends near Lacombe. Soon we will be at the live Stampede. Don't forget the coming excitement in Ponoka, August 28th, Buckhorn friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan Borg paid Rimbey a flying visit last Tuesday and report everything is doing fine out there.

ing boys to face the crowd and repeat—"The boy stood on the burning deck, etc." Following the programme was ice cream and cake. To close the evening the young folks made the home ring with "Goodnight ladies, for we must leave you now."

Mr. George Weiss drove to Rimbey on Saturday, and returned with his friend, Bud Davidson, for a few week's holiday.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Monday, the 23rd inst., at the home of Hugh T. Jones. The contracting parties were Car W. Jones and Miss Maggie Doherty, of Calgary.

After the ceremony at which Rev. T. E. Jeffrey, assisted by Rev. J. M. Hughes, of Seattle, officiated, fully sixty neighbors and friends sat down at the table.

The young people will make their home for a time at least in Calgary, and all who know them will join in wishing them success and happiness.
